Well it looks like to semester is finally getting settled, the lines have dwindled and the first round of exams are here. Through the various trials and new experiences of a new year, a lot of energy has been spent to just keep moving in a positive direction. Thanks to the faculty, staff and students that have gone the extra mile to positively impact the BCTC Community.

A few points to remember... first October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month, highlighting an issue that destroys relationships in so many different ways. Second, please check out the workshop schedule for this month. And last but not least, don't forget about Fall Break from 10/09 – 15, a time to stop, catch your breath, regroup, and relax.
