Selective Admissions

The Nursing program is a selective admissions program which admits initial admission only in the Fall semester. Advanced Standing students, which includes LPN candidates, are admitted in the Spring semester. See the program website at <https://bluegrass.kctcs.edu/education-training/programs/nursing/associate-degree-nursing/index.aspx> for selective admission information including mandatory pre-admission conference dates, NLN PAX RN exam information, and admission ranking categories.

Additional Information

- Non-nursing courses must be taken prior to or concurrent with the semester sequence in which the student is enrolling in nursing.
- CPR certification for the healthcare provider must be obtained prior to enrolling in the first NSG course and must be kept current throughout the program.
- A letter grade of C or higher in each nursing course, biological science course, and quantitative reasoning course is required to continue in the program.
- A cumulative grade point average of 2.0 must be met in order to apply and then maintained after admission to the nursing program.
- *Credits earned in biological and physical sciences that are 6 years or older must be updated.
