

MOSAIC

Multicultural Opportunities, Strategies and Institutional Inclusiveness Conference

Dates: November 9 & 10, 2017

Place: University of Kentucky in Blazer Hall (MLK Blvd) and historic Patterson Hall

Cost: Free to all registrants from schools in the Central KY Diversity Consortium

Join us at the fourth MOSAIC for the Central KY Diversity Consortium. This conference offers a respectful space for us to explore difficult topics on systemic racial disparities. Students, staff and faculty from members of the Consortium attend for FREE, but registration is required. We focus this year on “Know Your Rights:” your rights in a democracy.

Sessions will be led by scholars at all levels (and their community partners): panels, facilitator-led discussions, poster sessions with new ideas (e.g., service-learning projects), and creative expressions by activist/scholars. Invited speakers also address juvenile justice issues in community-based engagement. We want to offer hands-on skills for activist/scholars to use in their service-learning and/or volunteer activities in their local communities.
